C2ESG CLIMATE CHANGE & ESG CONFERENCE

Accountants—Champions of Climate Change & Sustainability

2 & 3 September 2021 (Thursday & Friday), 9.00am – 1.15pm

Discussions concerning the disclosure and data quality in the Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) spectrum are driving several international, regional policy and regulatory initiatives towards the same direction.

Accountants have the responsibility and ability to improve their preparedness in managing the impacts of climate change given that companies must consider climate-related matters in applying IFRS Standards when the effect of those matters is material in the context of the financial statements taken as a whole. This can then ultimately help companies mitigate ESG risks while supporting the transition towards a low carbon economy through their products and services.

Accountants can be influential in driving sustainable behaviours by identifying material risks with financial consequences and providing the information needed to make decisions, which is the domain of the accountancy profession. This also includes providing relevant financial and strategic analysis, disclosure, scenario analysis and assurance in helping organisations generate and preserve value. Acting together with organisations of all types, accountants can help to deliver environmental, social, and economic sustainability.

As part of efforts to further engage and build the accountancy profession's capability in climate change through its theme Accountants—Champions of Climate Change & Sustainability, the C2ESG aims to highlight the important role played by the accountancy profession and professional accountants in facilitating governments, capital markets, and organisations to implement plans for climate change mitigation and adaptation.

Through insightful discussions, the C2ESG hopes to:

- > Inspire participants on a wide array of themes concerning climate change and ESG,
- > Provide practical guidance for long-term sustainability and the ESG agenda,
- > Spur accountants in Malaysia to act by helping the organisations they work with to respond towards climate change with the required urgency and scale.

PRINCIPLES AND STRATEGIES BEHIND THE SUSTAINABILITY AGENDA

A sustainable strategy can lead towards business resilience by enabling an organisation to create value for its shareholders and contribute to a sustainable society. A sustainable strategy integrates material sustainability issues, leading towards business models that enable net positive economic, environmental, and social impacts. This session will discuss the following:

- Value creation for ESG: how business models may need adaptation
- Stakeholders' perspectives of how the organisation's activities affect and are affected by society
- Megatrends of past, present and future, plus opportunities and threats arising from these megatrends
- Managing customer needs: development of new products and services that meet customer demand while also improving efficiency

10.25 am STARTING YOUR ESG REPORTING JOURNEY

Companies with good ESG practices have a lower cost of capital, better operational performance, and better share price performance. With comprehensive corporate reporting on ESG, investors will see improved access to capital, stock performance, and customer loyalty. Corporate reporting is now permanently expanded to include ESG, but navigating through the different frameworks require careful attention. This session will uncover some of the best tips in kick-starting the ESG reporting journey.

9.00 am ENTER THE FUTURE: DIGITALISATION IN ESG REPORTING

The digitalisation approach should be incorporated into a company's ESG strategy. Artificial Intelligence (AI), machine learning, the Internet of Things, and Virtual and Augmented Reality are among the advanced technologies which pave the way for the next generation of data. AI enables users to reach beyond the standard capabilities of data collection, reporting and analysis to gain clear and actionable insights. This will not only impact the future of analytics for areas such as incident management and chemical risks but will also extend to ESG-related solutions such as sentiment analysis for employee and safety culture. This talk will give an overview on how to build a digital strategy that incorporates ESG for ease of delivering your company's ESG commitments.
